

FREE KS3/4 Physics Waves and the Electromagnetic Spectrum 7th February 2019

This FREE Physics CPD day will improve your knowledge and confidence in teaching Physics as a non-specialist teacher. It includes a range of practical strategies and demos' which you can immediately take back to your classroom and share with your colleagues, based on the theme of waves and the electromagnetic spectrum. In addition to the two practical sessions, the day includes a Maths for Physics session giving you the knowledge and experience to know when and how the maths, that students need to be successful physicists, is taught. This well attended session is an excellent opportunity to build your CPD, gain a support network and implement new ideas into your school.
