SPECIALIST LEADER OF EDUCATION (SLE)

Name:

Nick Salisbury

Specialism:

Leadership of curriculum
Science

Main teaching phase:

Secondary

I began teaching in Northamptonshire in 2002. My first role in management was as second in Science at a rural Hampshire school. In 2006 I became Head of Science at an inner city school in Southampton. Since progressing into management, I have undertaken a considerable amount of outreach work with other schools. From 2009 to 2013, I supported newly appointed heads of science in departments across the city of Southampton in conjunction with the LA Science Coordinator. During my time as Head of Science in Southampton, I became the lead teacher for OCR for the Southern region, supporting the exam board in delivering the gateway science exam syllabus.

In 2013, I joined Sir Christopher Hatton Academy as Assistant Principal with responsibility for science. The following year I was appointed as Senior Assistant Principal with responsibility for standards and progress of students across the curriculum. I also retained strategic overview of the science department. I have experienced 6 Ofsted inspections (3 in a leadership capacity) giving me a unique insight into the importance of strategy, systems and procedures with regards to school improvement. I have recently facilitated the SSAT National Award for Middle Leaders (NAML) training and I also facilitate NPQH training. In 2015, I was promoted to Vice Principal where I became responsible for monitoring and developing teaching and learning across Sir Christopher Hatton Academy.

During my outreach work I have:

- Supported colleagues who have been newly appointed in post
- Successfully developed strategies with Heads of Science in other schools to improve the outcomes of students
- Delivered whole school twilight sessions on the effective use of data
- Supported heads of department in implementing new science GCSEs
- Facilitated SSAT NAML
- Lead session on effective teaching strategies at both and National and regional teaching conferences
